

NEAFT Merger Caucus

The NEAFT Merger Caucus believes there is greater strength in the unity of NEA and AFT as representatives of school workers in a single democratic union with shared common values and goals.

With a potential membership near four million, our merged organization will be present in every community. The ability we will have to speak with one voice to deliver our message to the American people will be unmatched. We will be able to shape the political and social agendas for the benefit of the nation's children.

As the nation's largest union, we will be uniquely positioned to join other unions in determining the social agenda of our country. Our size will allow us greater power to address issues ranging from education reform, member's rights, healthcare, and pension security to other critical issues that concern our membership.
